

Chances are that just about everyone in your audience is a fan of one of the great artists portrayed in Bruce A. Henry's "A Tribute to Soul Music". Who can forget their show stopping performances? ■

Now the international entertainer, Bruce A. Henry has put together a forty-five minute musical revue that will make these legends of soul music available for your event. The show includes bass, drums, guitar, keyboards, three horns plus four front singers (including Mr. Henry) who will make the magic of "A Tribute to Soul Music" come to life.

■ Need a dance band too? The Bruce A. Henry dance band is available to perform three additional sets of variety party music spanning from the big band era to current top forty music. You'll get top quality entertainment and have no aggravating logistical problems or dead time between the show and dance sets because the same sound and light gear is used for entire performance. If you need any special musical services, our musical director will be glad to write special arrangements for your product or theme. ■ Bruce A. Henry and his entourage are looking forward to a soulful performance at your next special event!

About Bruce A. Henry

"Everyone lucky enough to catch singer Bruce Henry when he performed in the Twin Cities knew of his amazing versatility and marvelous voice. You might have heard him sing Gershwin or Jazz at the Dakota Bar and Grill. You might have heard him sing everything from Prince to Harry Connick Jr. at a private party. You might have heard him sing at Rupert's for 4 years, knocking out patrons with scintillating interpretations of pop tunes and r&b." —Bob Protzman -St. Paul Pioneer Press
